

Allyson Brooks

Editor and Author

364 Ivy Chase Loop, Dallas, GA 30157

(678) 910-3645

allysonRbrooks@gmail

Significant Projects

Green Card Voices: Stories From an Atlanta High School

Peachtree Publishers (May 2018)

Student Editor

- Transcribed student's (HM Sakib's) narrative from video recording
- Collaborated in person with Sakib to develop narrative
- Line edited final piece for mechanical errors and clarity

Primal Tales (a quarterly table-top role-playing game)

Pandahead Publishing (April 2018)

Editor

- Collaborated with author and project leader to develop content
- Suggested ways to amplify the narratives of new character classes
- Proofread first printing to correct technical and mechanical errors for second printing

A Hand of Gold and Other Stories (fiction anthology)

Pandahead Publishing (June 2018)

Editor and Contributing Author

- Anthologized six short stories from six separate authors
- Insured that each narrative fit the world of the previous novels, Red is the Darkest Color and The Devil Was Green, according to the Pussy Katnip style guide
- Copy edited each narrative for mechanical and stylistic content

Education

Kennesaw State University

Bachelor of Science in Psychology with a Professional Writing Minor

Expected Graduation in Spring 2019

- GPA of 3.53 as of Fall 2017 semester
- Psychology Club member

Additional Skills

- Twenty-seven years of experience as a Graphic Designer
 - Very skilled in Adobe InDesign, Photoshop, and Illustrator
 - Design and produce for both print and web
 - Portfolio at: www.allysonbrooks.com
- Volunteer as a Convention Representative for Goodman Games and Pandahead Publishing
 - Have developed excellent people skills with both children and adults